

Can you help with research into diabetes in pregnancy?

We are seeking women who have been told they have gestational diabetes (diabetes during pregnancy) to take part in an interview study.

You may be eligible to participate if you:

- Have been told you have gestational diabetes (diabetes in pregnancy) in the last 2 years.
- Are aged between 18 and 45

Participants will be given a £20 voucher for their time and we can help with childcare costs to help you participate in the interview.

For more information, please contact our research team on elope-gdm@ucl.ac.uk or visit our webpage.
